Raid on Darwin Signals New Invasion Attempt

Key United Nations Base on Australia's Mainland Attacked

BY ROGER D. GREENE
Associated Press War Editor

American and other foreign troops have arrived in Java, it was disclosed today, ready to aid in defending the heart of the rich Dutch East Indies against the encroachment of Japan's invasion forces driving into nearby lower Sumatra.

Simultaneously, Secretary of War Stimson announced in Washington that urgent preparations were being made now for American forces to take the offensive.

Stimson also warned that the nation should expect attacks "all along our coasts and other places" such as the raids by German U-boats against the Dutch West Indies of Aruba, off the coast of Venezuela.

Simultaneously, official Dutch news agency, said American ground troops, relatively small in number, as well as United States bombers and fighter pilots were now seen frequently in the island.

It was the first disclosure that American soldiers had arrived to bolster the United Nations' defenses in the Far Pacific conflict.

Meanwhile, Japanese warplanes for the first time attacked the Australian mainland, bombing the Allied naval base at Darwin, and in the battle of Burma, Tokyo dispatches asserted that Japanese troops had advanced within 75 air-line miles of Rangoon.

Rangoon, the Burmese capital, is a chief port of entry for war supplies to China.

In the Dutch Indies, a bulletin from N. E. I. headquarters said, Dutch troops were still battling fiercely against Japanese invasion forces around the great oil center of Palembang, in lower Sumatra.

The Dutch command said rising sun planes raided an air field in western Java today, causing "some damage," following up yesterday's 24-plane attack on the big Allied naval base at Soerabaya in eastern Java.

The aerial assault on Darwin, perhaps signaling a new invasion attempt by Japan's far-flung armies, lasted an hour.

In the Philippines, a bulletin from Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters reported increasing Japanese pressure against American-Filipino defense lines on the Bataan Peninsula and said that troop movements indicated a resumption of the enemy offensive.

The communiqué said several Japanese flame-throwers were used in the assault.

While Dutch forces fought stubborn delaying actions in southern Sumatra, southern Borneo and southern Celebes, the stepping stones to the Java citadel of the United Nations—Aneta, official Dutch news agency, was permitted to disclose the arrival of the United Nations' forces.

The battles on the approaches to Java are helping the United Nations to mass all possible strength to meet the expected invasion of Java.

Coinciding with the announcement of reinforcements, Batavia had two air raid alarms today but no actual attacks.

Only the Sittang river would remain for a river-line defense of the railway if the Bilin were lost.

Whether the first enemy footholds had been wiped out in the counter-assault by hard-fighting Indian Gurkhas was not yet known.

The Japanese were using captured Thelon, a short distance east of the Bilin estuary on the Gulf of Martaban, as a concentration point for troops thrown into the battle of the Bilin river.

The enemy used every available small boat for his crossings. What proportion of the boats got through was not learned, but many of them were shattered in mid-stream by artillery fire or were raked by machine-guns.

REDS TRAP NAZIS IN CORRIDOR

Soviet Armies, Knifing Into White Russia on Triumphant Counter-March From Moscow, Appear To Be Slowly Closing Gigantic Snare Around Force of Almost Million

RAF BOMBERS SMASH ANEW AT BIGHT BASE

Russia's armies, knifing into the republic of White Russia on a triumphant counter-march from Moscow, appeared today to be slowly closing a gigantic trap around a force of perhaps 600,000 to 1,000,000 German troops in the "Napoleonic corridor" from Smolensk to Smolensk.

This seemed clearly indicated by Red army dispatches reporting that Soviet troops had by-passed Smolensk on the north, while other Russian columns were said to have crossed the Sozh river south of Smolensk.

The northern salient, driving from the Velizh sector, was apparently pressing sharply toward German-held Vitebsk, 20 miles inside White Russia, while the southern columns were said to be cutting in between Smolensk and Rostov.

On this basis, the mouth of the German escape corridor presumably had been narrowed to less than 100 miles.

Soviet Russia's millions, lacking official details of the German-Russian war movements for almost a month now, expect Monday, Feb. 23, to be a day of good news.

It marks both the 24th anniversary of the creation of the Red army, a workers' legion that succeeded in 1917.

PENSION REPEAL MEASURE GOES TO THE SENATE

Washington, Feb. 19.—(P)—The senate gained a step on the house today in the race to repeal the pensions for congressmen law.

By the unusual stratagem of a night hearing, the senate civil service committee completed its action and voted 4 to 2 to send the repeal bill to the floor today.

The house civil service committee is just taking up repeal of the law, which was signed by the president only 25 days ago but has since been the target of "bundles for congressmen" and other lampooning. The pension author, Rep. Ramspeck, (D-Ga.) has acknowledged that "the majority of the people do not at this time" favor it.

In approving repeal, the senate committee coldly rejected pleas by spokesmen of government employee unions that congress "face the issue manfully," "show intestinal stamina," and leave the law as it is.

Harrisburg, Feb. 19.—(P)—Mark S. James, state secretary of commerce, said today a survey of machinery and manpower available in the anthracite region—hard hit by unemployment in recent years—would begin next week.

"The federal government could place 20,000 persons in jobs making small arms and munitions if we could find the machinery and skilled men to operate it," the secretary asserted.

James has been seeking to persuade the government to locate TNT plants in the eastern Pennsylvania hard coal section and commented:

"I wouldn't be surprised if the government selected a site this week."

FIGHTERS MAY GET PAY BOOST

Washington, Feb. 19.—(P)—Bills to raise soldiers' and sailors' pay and provide living allowance for their families were pushed forward today by legislative sponsors who criticized the administration for failure to take a stand on the two measures.

Senator Johnson (D-Colo.) introduced legislation to increase the base pay of enlisted men from $21 to $42 a month and raise officers' pay on a sliding scale.

Rep. Edmonson (D-WVa.) proposed establishing an allotment and allowance system patterned after that of the first World War, under which enlisted men would be required to send at least $15 a month home to dependents, while the government provided another $15.

The Johnson bill not only would (Turn to Page Eight)

TWO DEAD IN NEARBY TRAGEDY

Sisters Lose Lives in Fire Which Destroys Two-Story Frame House of Mr. and Mrs. James J. Myers in Troy Township, Crawford County, Early Today

SEVEN OTHERS MAKE ESCAPE FROM ROOMS

Titusville, Feb. 19.—(P)—Two young girls were burned to death in a fire which destroyed the two-story frame house of Mr. and Mrs. James J. Myers in Troy township, Crawford county, 15 miles west of Titusville, early today.

The victims were Beatrice Myers, 15, and Isabelle Myers, 13. Myers and his wife aided four other Myers children and a guest to escape from their bedrooms on the first floor of the house, enveloped by wind-whipped flames a few minutes after the father lighted a fire in a furnace and returned to bed.

Joy Dempsey, 9, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Dempsey, of Guys Mills, R. D. 4, Crawford county, who was visiting the Myers home, suffered burns over three-quarters of her body. She was taken to Titusville hospital.

Dr. C. M. Sonne of Titusville, deputy coroner of Crawford county, said Myers, an employee of the Jackson-Ludwig Lumber Company in Titusville, told him the fire broke out suddenly, adding:

"It seemed the whole house was ablaze in 10 minutes."

Mrs. Myers was slightly cut in breaking a window through which she and her husband thrust their four youngest children—ranging in age from 4 to 10.

LANDIS BEGINS STREAMLINING OF THE O. C. D.

Washington, Feb. 19.—(P)—The process of stripping down the much-criticized Office of Civilian Defense for "emergency action" was under way in earnest today as the jobs of four former mayors followed that of Blanche Mayris Chaney, dancer friend of Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, into the discard.

Having accepted Miss Chaney's resignation as director of children's activities, Director James M. Landis followed up last night by jettisoning two whole divisions which he said were of "no further value."

Abolished effective March 1 the office of inspector general, headed by former Mayor T. Semmes (Turn to Page Eight)

GOVERNMENT IS STUDYING JAP MILITARY BOOKS

Seattle, Feb. 19.—(P)—Japanese military books calling for attacks upon Hawaii, Alaska, the Pacific coast and the Panama Canal in April have been turned over to government authorities, a Korean who said he once served on the Japanese consular staff in Honolulu related today.

Kilsoo K. Haan, Washington, D. C., representative of the Sino-Korean Peoples' League, said he obtained one of the books at a 1940 meeting in Portland, Ore., where Japanese reserve officers were to speak, and stole the other from the room of Japanese officials in a Los Angeles hotel.

"The first phase, now in progress, is to be completed in four months, according to the Japanese war plans," he said in an interview.

"The second phase, scheduled to start in April, calls for an all-out attack on Hawaii, with capture of Oahu and Pearl Harbor slated to be accomplished in one week. Simultaneously, the plan schedules attacks on Alaska, the Pacific coast generally and the Panama Canal."

"That's when the campaign of sabotage is to be waged. The reason there has been no outbreak of sabotage in the United States so far is that the Japanese government has ordered the Japs in this country to withhold such activities until the military attacks."

He said he passed as a Japanese in obtaining position in the Japanese consulate in Honolulu from 1935 to 1937 and "was amazed and deeply concerned over what I found out. For example, I saw blueprints and detailed technical information of the construction at Pearl Harbor."

Third Man Held in Theatre Job

BY WICK TEMPLE

Lebanon, Feb. 19.—(P)—Modest Mrs. Reuben McLaughlin, four of whose 11 children are in the army, shyly turned aside congratulations in her designation as this city's outstanding mother.

"We had to coax her quite a bit to get her to accept it. She couldn't understand why she should receive any particular honor," said Mayor C. Ray Eell.

"I never expected anything like that," related the retired 50-year-old wife of a WPA worker. "It came as a great shock."

"She didn't want to take it at all," the mayor said, referring to a medal for her for the sons in the armed forces—Sergeant John McLaughlin, 20, and Privates Franklin, 22, Reuben, Jr., 26, and Clarence McLaughlin, 27.

Mrs. McLaughlin had a speech all prepared for the occasion, but when it came time, it dwindled to "I just don't know what to say. It makes a person feel very good in her way."

Her boys enlisted last year and Mrs. McLaughlin "feels proud that they were willing to go before being drafted."

Advertisements of Merchants Taking Part in Dollar Day to Appear in Friday's Issue of the Times-Mirror

HUGE SAVINGS OFFERED

Concentrating all their efforts on a big one-day event, 26 business houses of Warren will stage their annual February Dollar Day on Saturday of this week.

From all indications, Saturday's savings will be on of the most outstanding events of its kind ever staged here. Each participating retailer has pledged to give the greatest possible bargains and residents of Warren and vicinity who fail to take advantage of the offerings will be missing something worthwhile.

Carrying on the "Retailers for Victory" program, local merchants have arranged their bargains in such a manner that shoppers may obtain the items which they desire and use the savings to be re-invested in Defense Stamps.

Whereas, the remaining 25 participating business houses of the community are confining their sale to a single day, the Times-Mirror will offer its special rate saving on both Friday and Saturday, in keeping with the announcement made previously.

With the prices of practically all articles increased as a result of the war, residents of Warren and vicinity will welcome an opportunity to make their purchases at great savings.

For the first time in the history of the local merchants, the radio is being utilized to call attention to Saturday's sales event. As previously reported, announcements of the sale are being made at designated periods over station WJTN at Jamestown.

Advertisements of the merchants participating in the Dollar Day on Saturday will appear in tomorrow's issue of the Times-Mirror.

BULLITT BOOM COMPLICATING TO DEMOCRATS

Harrisburg, Feb. 19.—(P)—The possibility of former Ambassador William C. Bullitt becoming a candidate for governor has added a complicating factor to the harmony discussions of a Democratic committee of 20, ready with its first report on party sentiment.

The committee, formed last week by Democratic leaders, came to the capital today to talk over the chances of the party backing one candidate for governor in the May 19 primary.

Responsible sources in Washington injected Bullitt into the Pennsylvania picture Tuesday, day after President Roosevelt had suggested party leaders compromise on the diplomat as their standard bearer.

Bullitt, a Philadelphian and one-time ambassador to France and Russia, said he would run only if the president asked him to.

Three other candidates have been suggested informally—Auditor General F. Clair Ross; former Philadelphia city treasurer Luther A. Harr; and Common Pleas Judge Ralph H. Smith of Pittsburgh.

State Chairman Meredith Meyers has thrown his personal support to Harr; Ross is friendly with National Committeeman David L. (Turn to Page Thirteen)

Dramatic Outbreak at Start of French Trial

Riom, Unoccupied France, Feb. 19.—(P)—A dramatic outbreak took place at the opening session of the French war defeat trial, former Premier Leon Blum, one of the defendants, attacked the constitutionality not only of the court but of the present government of France.

The trial was suspended immediately to permit the prosecuting attorney to prepare a reply.

Blum, the Socialist leader, pale and haughty as before the war, asked the court to declare itself unconstitutional since, he said, the republic itself exists and under its laws only the chamber of deputies has a right to indict a minister while only the senate has the right to try him.

Bi-Partisan Plan for Cutting Congressional Delegation From 34 to 33 Approved As Governor Demands Method to Cut Red Tape Blocking War Program

SOUTHWEST FACTIONS REGISTER OBJECTIONS

Harrisburg, Feb. 19.—(P)—The Democratic-controlled house gave swift passage today to a bi-partisan plan for cutting Pennsylvania's congressional delegation from 34 to 33, as Governor James said the legislature must find some method of cutting red tape blocking the war program in Pennsylvania.

The re-apportionment proposal, drawn up by a committee of five senators and five representatives after the 1941 legislature deadlocked, was finally passed 163 to 17 and sent to the senate.

The action shared interest with James' comments on his bill for power to suspend or modify laws which the state council of defense found hindered the war effort.

James told his press conference he would insist on some plan being worked out by the legislature to set aside state laws blocking the operation of various departments.

At the same time, he asserted his bill was "only a suggestion" and added that if anyone has a better method of meeting the emergency situation, "I'd be happy to have any of their suggestions."

Both house and senate quit for the week, the senate until 4 p. m. Monday and the house until 3 p. m. Tuesday.

Final house action placed the politically vital bill in position for final passage by the senate next week.

The measure, worked out after a year of dispute, called for the elimination of one Democratic district in western Pennsylvania, one Republican district in the northern tier, with one congressman elected on a state-wide basis to reduce Pennsylvania's delegation in congress from 34 to 33.

"We think southwestern Pennsylvania is usually dealt with," exclaimed Rep. Clarence O. Williams (D-Washington). "It is Washington county which is losing the district."

To that, Rep. Robert D. Fleming (R-Allegheny) interposed: "We have been given a bag to hold and we're going to hold it. We, however, believe that any apportionment is better than none and we will vote for this, though we have been unjustly dealt with."

Rep. Leo A. Acisterman, the Democratic floor leader, who was co-chairman of the committee that drew up the compromise bill, pointed out that one speaker claimed Washington county was losing a congressman and another says Allegheny county was losing one.

"Either one is wrong," he said. "Somewhere, someone is going to (Turn to Page Eight)

JOB DISPLACEMENT BENEFIT BILL OUT

Washington, Feb. 19.—(P)—The house ways and means committee voted today to table the administration's $300,000,000 program of unemployment benefits to workers temporarily thrown out of jobs while factories are converted to wartime production.

Chairman Doughton (D-Nc.) said the committee action "seems to mean that if there is going to be any kind of a bill somebody will have to start all over again."

MILK DEALERS GAIN INCREASE

Harrisburg, Feb. 19.—(P)—Retail milk dealers over a wide area in Pennsylvania today gained an increase of one cent a quart in prices, effective March 1.

When the new schedules go into effect, milk delivered to the doorstep will cost 14 cents a quart in most parts of the state.

Governor James signed orders yesterday boosting prices from 13 to 14 cents a quart in the Harrisburg, Lancaster, Lehigh, Reading, Williamsport, Sayre, Athens and York marketing areas. The price in Erie and the Scranton-Wilkes-Barre zones was permitted to remain at 14 cents but prices to farmers in the latter area were raised by 11 cents per hundredweight.

The milk control commission recommended the price changes to (Turn to Page Eight)

WAR BULLETINS

Willemstad, Curacao, Feb. 19.—(P)—A Panama-registered tanker was torpedoed off the Dutch island of Aruba today in a renewed outburst of German submarine activity deep in the Caribbean Sea, Aneta News Agency announced.

Washington, Feb. 19.—(P)—The war department reported today the Japanese were increasing pressure on General Douglas MacArthur's defense lines on the Bataan Peninsula in the Philippines, and troop movements indicated a resumption of the enemy offensive.

Washington, Feb. 19.—(P)—Sumner Welles, undersecretary of state, said today the United States was not satisfied with explanations so far offered by the Vichy government regarding reported French aid to Axis forces in Libya.

Ottawa, Feb. 19.—(P)—The Canadian Corvette Spikenard has been lost with 57 officers and men, it was announced officially today. Navy Minister Angus MacDonald said the ship was lost through enemy action. Five of her officers and 52 of her 60 crew members lost their lives, he said.

London, Feb. 19.—(P)—Prime Minister Churchill, impressed by the firmness of house of commons opposition to the present government, is expected to announce the entry of Sir Stafford Cripps and Captain Oliver Lyttleton into the war cabinet before a crucial debate on the war at the next commons session, informed sources declared today.

Chungking, Feb. 19.—(P)—War supplies for China will be moved over a new land route from India, replacing the Japanese-menaced Burma Road, a Chinese official announced today.

SHEFFIELD GIRL RETURNS FROM SOUTH PACIFIC

Sheffield, Feb. 18—Mrs. S. A. Fuhring and two young daughters arrived in Sheffield Saturday for an extended visit with Mrs. Fuhring's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Slater, after having completed, in company of their husband and father, Dr. S. A. Fuhring, U. S. Navy, a several thousand mile trip that began late in January, at Pago Pago, seaport of the island of Tutuila, one of the Samoan group in the far south Pacific ocean.

The Fuhrings, who had intended sailing for home on Dec. 1 but were delayed when the ship on which they had booked passage was rerouted and did not call at Pago Pago, were at sea nine days on the perilous voyage, but Mrs. Fuhring reports, uneventful non-stop voyage from Tutuila through the submarine-infested Pacific to San Francisco, where their ship docked on Feb. 1.

Enroute east from San Francisco, the family stopped briefly in Kansas for a visit with Dr. Fuhring's parents and came on from there to Sheffield. Dr. Fuhring went on to Washington and since has been reassigned to duty at the Naval Station at Norfolk, Va.

Mrs. Fuhring, the former Marie Slater, graduate of Sheffield high school with the class of 1927, says that the Japanese bombing of Tutuila, which occurred in mid-December, caused very few casualties and but slight damage. Since the bombing, the women and children of the Army and Navy men and other whites on the island have, as a precautionary measure, been sent to inland residences, away from the harbor, the former local girl reports.

TALON BUYS PLANT
Talon, Inc., of Meadville, has purchased for approximately $125,000 the old silk mill plant in Erie which it has leased for the past four years. It was announced by Attorney Howard Plate. The former owner was the H. R. Mallison Company, of Dover, Del.

MOBILIZE CITIZENS
Civilian mobilization week will be launched in Meadville tonight with a bomb demonstration and a test blackout planned to make residents of that city more "war conscious." Dr. Albert Marriott is general chairman of a week-long observance, which will include a parade, mass meeting and a Red Cross benefit concert.

BLACKOUT A SUCCESS
Police Chief E. C. Gibson reported that Meadville's first test blackout of the war last night was "as nearly successful as we could possibly hope for." The only "casualty" was the man who toppled over an embankment and received minor scalp lacerations. Two hundred and fifty volunteer air raid wardens, state, county and city police patrolled designated posts during the 15-minute blackout.

UTILITIES MERGER
Approval has been given by the Public Utility Commission to acquisition by the Pennsylvania Electric Company of property and assets of four western Pennsylvania utilities as part of the reorganization of the bankrupt Associated Gas and Electric System. Utilities to be acquired in a transfer of $75,000,000 in investments are the Solar Electric, Erie Lighting, Youngsberry Hydro-Electric and the Logan Light, Heat and Power companies. All the companies are subsidiaries of the trustees of the Associated Gas and Electric.

A TIME OF WAR

That farewell down at the Pennsylvania railroad station Wednesday morning when 28 Warren county youths and a local young registered nurse left for induction centers was far different than those that were witnessed when sixteen previous contingents left the community. It was the first group to leave since war was declared, and the fact was quite noticeable as the relatives and friends bade goodbye to the Selectees.

In this connection considerable consolation may be found in an editorial written for NEA and the Times-Mirror by Willis Thornton, which is reprinted here:

"To everything," wrote the wise old Preacher in the Book of Ecclesiastes, "there is a season, and a time to every purpose under the heaven: a time to be born and a time to die; a time to plant, and a time to pluck up that which is planted; a time to kill and a time to heal; a time to break down and a time to build up; a time to mourn and a time to dance . . . a time to love and a time to hate; a time of war and a time of peace . . ."

It has befallen all of us to live part of our lives in a time of war. At this moment, with millions of America's manhood registering for service, of whom perhaps two more millions will be called this year in addition to two millions now serving, it is a time of goodbye. It is a hard time for everyone; but it is hardest for those who must part, and who must say goodbye.

If there were no more than that, it would be insupportable. But the same old Preacher in his wisdom knew that the time to kill is followed by the time to heal. That, too, will come.

Perhaps all America is saying goodbye to many things. Goodbye to all the old smug feeling that we were in the world, yet not of it. Goodbye to the old tendency to measure every man with a dollar-marked rule. Goodbye to the hectic "easy money" days of the twenties, which so nearly wrought our spiritual ruin. Goodbye to uncontrolled selfishness which made material life so much better than it needs to be for a comparative few, so much less good than it ought to be for so many.

Goodbye to false social standards and cancerous envy. Goodbye to arbitrary and artificial class distinctions, existing in America without a shadow of an excuse for being, conjured up sometimes even where they do not exist.

Goodbye to despair and impotence in the face of trouble, to cringing submission to economic misery for which there is no longer any reason except the inelastic workings of the mind of man. Goodbye to fear and doubt and lack of faith. Yes, goodbye to all that.

Out of the fiery trial of this war, with all its goodbyes and heartbreaks, all its pain and suffering, all its destruction and hatred, can come the America of which our fathers dreamed—a land of freedom for all.

To everything there is a season, and the time for these things may also come after the guns are silent. Anyone who does not dedicate himself to this, as well as to winning the war, has failed himself, has failed America, has failed humanity.

Many in the county join citizens of Clarendon in mourning the passing of Lewis C. Barnes, a loyal and beloved citizen and conscientious public official whose death leaves a vacancy that will be hard to fill.

Mayris received a lot of free publicity anyhow!

GREATEST PERIOD OF PRAYER
Rev. Arthur Sennewald, Emanuel Evangelical and Reformed Church

"And he came out, and went, as he was wont, to the Mount of Olives . . . and being in an agony he prayed more earnestly."—Luke 22:39, 44.

With these few words we are told of the greatest period of prayer that has ever been recorded in the history of mankind. Jesus, the Saviour of man, is approaching the final week on earth. The victory He wins now is to be further overshadowed by the great triumph upon the Cross. It is fitting, is it not, that the Son of God relies on a gift of His Father, namely prayer. Although Christ was a man of sorrows, yet all His previous griefs were nothing with what He now felt. The pressure of the world's guilt was upon Him. Thus the words are given, "He was in agony."

The prayer He most earnestly offered was one in which His will might become in subjection to His Heavenly Father. The cup was not removed; but He was strengthened. Whereupon He was encouraged. The Christ went fortified to the trials and the Cross.

Lent, a season for self-dedication, calls again to our great resource, prayer, and in this particular day of war and strife it is sorely needed. Can we ascend to the Mount of Olives and be renewed by prayer as was the Son of God?

EDSON'S WASHINGTON COLUMN

BY PETER EDSON
Times-Mirror Washington
Correspondent

Washington, Feb. 19.—It was at an affair attended by only the highest officials in Washington. The highest U. S. official present conversed long and earnestly with Soviet Ambassador Maxim Litvinov. Afterward, the American reported, "You know, I talked to him for over an hour about God, but at the end he was still unconvinced."

An explosion which may hit Office of Civilian Defense harder than anything yet may be an explosion on the way local interests have tried to seize control of local defense councils and divert the local civilian defense effort to selfish interests. Reports are beginning to trickle into Washington of strong Coughlinite, Ku Klux Klan, and similar drives to take over local civilian defense councils in areas where these groups have active organizations. In other areas where these groups have active organizations. In other areas, the dominant political machines freeze out all opposition party members from holding office as warden and so on.

This is a situation over which the Washington OGD headquarters has no jurisdiction, authority or control. Civilian defense in any community is ultimately a local problem. National headquarters of OGD will, however, probably get blamed for the dirty work in any community where a shirt organization can get control.

It is going to be a tough job, but Dean James M. Landis may in the long run be able to clean house at OGD headquarters and get rid of all the fancy dancing. The technique by which the force of the civilian defense effort may be saved is to transfer all the boondoggling activities to an outfit known in Washington as ODHWS, which is Paul McNutt's Office of Defense Health and Welfare Services. ODHWS now has programs operating under a nutrition division, a recreation section, a family security committee, a committee of community organization, a health and medical committee and a Social Protection section which is known as the sin section and deals with controlling commercialized vice.

As you can see, an existing organization with programs as broad as these could readily absorb a few more plain and fancy activities, including even some of the strong things that have gone on in OGD. If amalgamated in ODHWS, all the artificial morale building stimuli would be under one tent, and it would be a circus to put the greatest show on earth out of business.

All West Pointers in the classes from 1930 to 1937 may be wondering what happened to the five Siamese who attended the military academy in those years, by special act of Congress. Learning all they could of our military lore, these five cadets, Pradishnd, Sudasna, Praband, Kamhu and Suriya, returned to their native Siam, now Thailand, and presumably entered the Siamese army.

West Point records have post-graduation information on Pradishnd alone who, when last heard from, was a second lieutenant in the Royal Siamese Engineers. With the Japs now occupying Thailand and the Thai army fighting the British on the Burma frontier, the interesting puzzle is whether these foreign West Pointers have taken arms with or against the United States' enemies.

Impetus for the movement to have the moving picture industry declared an essential industry so as to exempt some movie personnel from selective service came from the belief that people like (Turn to Page Fourteen)

Stars and Stripes Wave In Bermuda Second Time

BERMUDA, under the sovereignty of Great Britain, flies the Stars and Stripes over naval and air bases for the second time in the history of the idyllic island vacation spot.

The stamp above, issued in 1941, is the first Bermuda airmail adhesive. The design bears a portrait of King George VI in the upper right-hand corner and a view of some of the 360 islands that comprise the Bermuda group.

An important way station for clippers flying the Atlantic at present, Bermuda furnished gunpowder for Washington's army, figured in the War of 1812, based Confederate blockade runners in the Civil War, and served as naval base for U. S. forces in the first World War. It is more important geographically to the U. S. than to its mother country, England.

The islands are 666 nautical miles southeast of New York, about three hours bombing distance. Army aircraft operating from bases recently built under leases granted last year, will have an approximate 750-mile radius to almost any point on the east coast, from Halifax, N. S., to Nassau in the Bahamas.

Interesting Items Taken From

In 1922

From present indications there will be several homes built next summer on the Warren-Tyrone road. Since the Blue Line bus system was inaugurated, Warren is easily accessible to residents of that locality who escape the high taxes prevailing in Warren.

R. W. Whitehill, of the Glendora Products Co., returned last week from New York, where he closed a contract for one of the largest shipments of green coffee that has ever been brought to this part of the state. He purchased 150,000 pounds and twelve box cars will be required to transport it.

The water that has been placed on the Beatty meadow has all soaked through the soil and the prospects of a skating rink this year are not encouraging. It is not probable that a third attempt will be made to flood the field.

A Corydon committee of Allegheny Highway Association was organized Saturday with R. H. Duntley as president and A. W. Reeves, secretary-treasurer.

Borough council will meet in adjourned session tonight when the proposed new building code will be considered.

Parents of children attending the McClintock school in the Fourth ward, patrons, school officials and everyone interested in the welfare of school children are invited to the dedicatory services of the new school to be held Monday evening.

The Warren "Y" wrestling team scored a 16-15 victory over the Jamestown "Y" grapplers last night. Those on the Warren team were Karl Timm, Frank Willard, "Doc" Hyers, Stewart Wood, J. Lytle, "Bus" Irwin and Stokes.

Patrolman L. E. Linder, of the local barracks of the state highway patrol, is in the hospital suffering from injuries sustained last evening when his motorcycle skidded and turned over on the Roosevelt highway at Saybrook.

Staging a thrilling finish, the National Transit basketball team won the City League first title last evening on the Y. M. C. A. court when they succeeded in collecting a one-point victory over the Baird Threes, the final count being 20-19.

Superintendent P. W. M. Presel, of the local schools, left today for Washington, D. C., to attend the national superintendents' convention.

TAX TROUBLERS

Better have that income tax return filed by March 15, but here are some questions the collector will not ask you:

1. What branch of the government collects the income tax?
2. Why was it necessary to amend the Constitution before Congress could enact a valid income tax law?
3. Name a prominent gangster sent to the penitentiary for failure to pay his income tax.
4. Which is the biggest producer of federal revenue: income tax, liquor excises or the tariff?
5. The governor of what state has proposed reducing his state's income tax rate 25 per cent to ease the burden caused by higher federal taxes?

MAN ABOUT MANHATTAN

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK — "Mimicry— the act or art of imitation."

Funk & Wagnalls. Keep this definition in mind when you think of Alec Templeton. He is blind. Most impersonators give exaggerated caricatures of the people they wish to imitate, and often they are successful. But if you take the exaggerated mannerisms away, it isn't often that you have anything recognizable.

How often have you seen mimics dance across a stage clapping their hands and singing "If You Knew Susie Like I Know Susie" in imitation of Eddie Cantor? Eddie is a character they all go after. But those imitations wouldn't mean very much without the hand clapping and dancing—unless the tone were true.

That's what I'm getting at. Alec Templeton can't dance across a stage and indulge in simulacra. If he did, he'd stumble into the orchestra pit and break his neck. All that is left for him to do is rely altogether on accuracy of tone. That is why his impersonations are so true, and so unqualifiedly successful. They lead him out and he sits at a piano and plays while he sings—as Eddie Cantor sings, as Donald Duck sings, as anybody sings.

I saw him sing "Mary Had a Little Lamb"—first, as a hillbilly quartet would sing it, then as a Cuban rhumba band would present it. Nearly three thousand people broke into involuntary cheers. The Mountaineer pitch and tone were absolutely authentic. They had to be. The loss of his sight was a catastrophe for which nothing can compensate him, but it must be true that the acuteness of his hearing took on a new cunning.

Alec Andrew Templeton is from the British Isles. Like Tommy Farr, the pugilist, who was known as the "Cardiff Giant," he is a native of Cardiff, Wales. He studied music at the Royal College in London and later became solo pianist with the Bournemouth Municipal orchestra and Cardiff Symphony. He likes jive and composes in that vein. He gives concerts at the piano and indulges in satirical interpretations of music masterpieces.

Though blind, he is no chair-sitter. Swimming, riding and walking are pastimes at which he is surprisingly proficient. Also he is a hearty eater—with roast beef and Yorkshire pudding being first on his list of enthusiastically admired dishes.

Alec Templeton isn't tall. He is blond and sort of plump. But when he apes a Swiss yodeler, mimics Toscanini or gives a satirical rendition of a Wagnerian opera as the diva-wife of an Ozark horseshoe pitcher would give it, that is unimportant. Everything else is forgotten.

Warren Kiwanians Hear Thrilling Experience of Aviation Instructor

The thrilling story of how a British air corps cadet fell out of a plane and then rode safely to earth on the tail of the ship was told to members of the Warren Kiwanis Club at their weekly luncheon meeting at the Carver Hotel yesterday noon by Jay McCausland, local young man who was instructing the student at the time of the unusual occurrence.

McCausland, who is a civilian instructor for the Alabama Institute of Aeronautics at Tuscaloosa, Ala., which is teaching prospective RAF pilots to fly, also told of other experiences at the training school.

The unusual experience at the field received nation-wide publicity at the time and brought much fan mail to the Englishman from girls all over the country.

Telling of the experience, McCausland said that he was having the student practice landings several times before permitting him to take off on a solo flight. They had circled the field at about 500 feet several times and the last time, just before coming in to land, McCausland told the student to get the nose of the ship down. The cadet pushed the stick forward with more than the necessary force and at the same time the plane hit a violent "bump" caused by the slip-stream from another ship which had just crossed it right angles.

McCausland said his plane shuddered violently and he immediately took over the controls. Then, looking around, he saw the rear cockpit empty. Thinking perhaps the student might have tried to open his parachute at the low altitude, McCausland looked down, expecting to see the cadet on the ground. However, there was no parachute in sight.

The instructor then looked farther back and there was the young man perched on the tail, holding the rudder and with his feet through the brace wires. With this extra weight on the rear of the ship and the plane thus thrown off balance, McCausland managed to climb to about 2,500 feet, from where he figured that the student would jump.

McCausland signalled for the student to jump by moving the rudder back and forth. The Englishman responded by wiggling it back at the instructor. The instructor then turned and nodded that it was all right to go ahead and the student merely answered by giving the pilot the typical British "thumbs up".

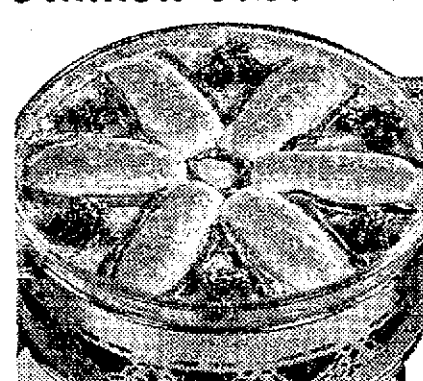

Realizing the cadet intended to stay with the ship, McCausland set about the difficult task of landing it safely. He was able to do so by making a power landing.

McCausland said that when the experience was over, the student was calm and unruffled and when asked how he liked it on the tail of the ship, replied that he was very comfortable.

A few days later the same student was about to start out on a solo flight when another cadet coming in for a landing struck the top wing of the ship and tore it off, barely missing the student with the propeller and landing gear.

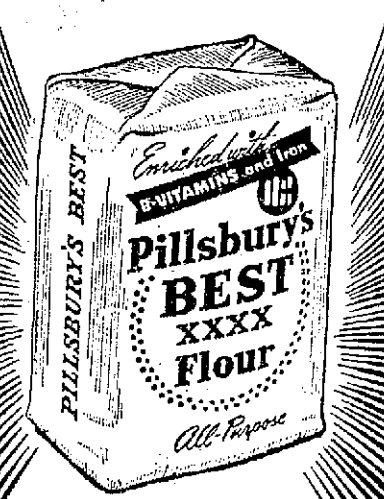

During yesterday's Kiwanis meeting, it was announced that the group would join with the other local service clubs in a meeting honoring I. G. Gordon Forster, state commander of the American Legion, to be held next Monday at the Y. W. C. A.

How to make Pillsbury's Savory Salmon Casserole

Complete recipe:

1. Fan-try 1 c. chopped celery, 1/4 c. chopped green pepper, 1/4 c. chopped onion, 1 c. sliced canned mushrooms in 2 Tbsp. butter until tender. 2. Add 2 c. (1 lb. can) flaked salmon, 1/4 c. canned whole-kernel corn, well drained. 3. Combine 1/4 c. butter and 5 Tbsp. Enriched Pillsbury's Best flour in saucepan over direct heat. Add 2 1/2 c. milk gradually, stirring until thickened. (Note the smooth, creamy goodness of this white sauce! Samples of Pillsbury's Best are served every hour for many white color!) Add 3/4 tsp. salt, 1/4 tsp. curry powder, dash of pepper. 4. Add salmon mixture, blend well. 5. Turn into 2 qt. casserole. TOP WITH FLAKY PUFFERS. (RECIPE—1. Sit and measure 1 c. Enriched Pillsbury's Best Flour. Add 1 1/2 tsp. baking powder (or 1 tsp. double-acting) and 1/4 tsp. salt; stir again. (Pillsbury's Best is enriched with two B-vitamins and iron with no change in appearance, flavor, or baking quality.) 2. Cut in 2 Tbsp. shortening until quite fine. Add 6 Tbsp. milk (about); mix until all flour is dampened. 3. Knead lightly on a floured board a few seconds. 4. Divide in 6 equal pieces; shape each into a finger roll. (Notice how tender your dough is, how easy-to-handle, when made with Pillsbury's Best! This superb flour is superior in protecting your baking—rigid baking tests are made 4 to 6 times a day during milling!) 5. Place finger rolls in cartwheel formation over hot mixture. 6. Bake in hot oven (350° F.) 25 to 30 min. When the family takes the first bite of that tender, flaky topping, you'll know why we say—Pillsbury's Best is your best choice every time you bake!

OBITUARY

HOWARD WILLIS MERRY

Cole Hill, Feb. 19—Howard Willis Merry, 83, died at his home in Wayne townships near Corry, on February 12, and funeral services were held in the Bracken-Keating chapel in Corry at two o'clock Sunday afternoon. Rev. E. A. Calbreath, Corry Methodist minister, officiated, assisted by Rev. E. F. Armitage, also of that city. A request of the deceased was granted in the singing of two hymns, "Shall We Gather at the River" and "In the Sweet By and Bye". Interment was made in the Beavertown cemetery, with the following neighbors as bearers: D. Sorenson, Clarence Bailey, T. G. Fullum, Perry Darrow, Andrew Sederburg and Harry Snyder.

The following were among relatives present: Mr. and Mrs. Reed Merry and family; Watsburg; Mr. and Mrs. Dan Houghwot; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Enos, Russell; John and George Cole, Warren; Mrs. David Cole and children; Norman and Ida Stoneham; Miss Nellie Wentworth, Cole Hill; Willis Wentworth, Pittsfield.

Mr. Merry was born at Richfield Springs, Herkimer county, New York, on November 13, 1858, the son of James and Mary Jane Mosse Merry. He was the last of eight children. Moving to French Creek, N. Y., at the age of three, he lived there for a time before going to Corry, where he had remained in the same house for more than 60 years. He was married to Miss Cora Cole, of Cole Hill, April 9 1880, at the home of his brother, Arthur Merry, Watsburg. Their daughter, Ethel, wife of Clinton Preble, resides at Friendship, N. Y., and a son, Lyle, on the Merry farm. Besides his wife and children, he leaves seven grandchildren: Mrs. Mary Lockwood, Cuba, N. Y.; Howard, Cora Bell and Martha Preble, Friendship; Evangeline, James and Joyce Merry, Corry.

He had twice served as school director of Wayne township, also as its treasurer. He was a member of the official board at the time of building the new Methodist church in Corry and had taken an active part in church affairs for many years. He and Mrs. Merry celebrated their 51st wedding anniversary last April.

AFTERNOON FROCK IS YOUNG

by ANNE ADAMS
Do you wish you looked more glamorous? Here's the easy budget way—make up Pattern 4012 by Anne Adams! It's got those fashion-flattering touches you love—a round yoke at the neck with soft gathers below—a lowered waist—seam—twin panels in the skirt! The bodice buttons partly down the back—you don't need a side placket. Try this mode in blousey spring print... try it with a contrast yoke, the belt and sleeve bands of plain fabric. The sleeve bands are used on the three quarter sleeve... Instructions are given for every version in the concise Sewing Instructor. Here's one afternoon frock you can afford—here's one you can wear for every type of social occasion on that crowded calendar.

Pattern 4012 is available in misses' and women's sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, 20, 30, 32, 34, 36, 38 and 40. Size 16 takes 3 yards 39 inch fabric.

Send FIFTEEN CENTS (plus ONE CENT to cover cost of mailing) for this Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly SIZE, NAME, ADDRESS and STYLE NUMBER.

YOUR role in the 1942 picture is to be thrifty, yet look your smartest and prettiest. Let the colorful new Anne Adams Spring Pattern Book help you plan a sew-and-save program, with its easily made, promptly available patterns for every age. Trim tailored modes, gay prints, cottons, evening gowns, housewear. Charming young world graduation, school and party clothes, too. PLUS—several patterns for defense sewing. Order your copy NOW! NEW BIRTHDAY VICTORY IDEA
The defense savings idea is invading every phase of daily living during this war period and today is offered a new slant—a streamlined gift idea to accompany the friendly old tune, "Happy Birthday." Since Pearl Harbor, birthday gifts of defense bonds and stamps are the number one favorite throughout the country. Children and adults alike, feel a sense of pride as they watch their stamp albums fill up with 10c, 25c and 50c stamps. The new album, free with stamp purchases, conveniently slips into an envelope for easy mailing. Join the Birthday Victory Parade by giving defense bonds and stamps.

FREDERICK JAGEL TO SING IN "AIDA"
It will interest members of the Warren Concert Association to know that Frederick Jagel will sing the role of Rhadames in Verdi's "Aida" at two o'clock Saturday afternoon at the Metropolitan. Paul Breisch will conduct and the ballet will dance.

Mr. Jagel will come to Warren on March 19 for the final concert on this year's schedule, previous recitals having been given by the Curtis String Quartet of Philadelphia, and Sidney Foster, brilliant young American pianist.

OPERATIC DATES FOR CLEVELAND
According to announcement just received, eight performances will be given by the Metropolitan Opera Company in Cleveland Auditorium beginning Easter Monday. They will be "Don Giovanni", April 6; "Lohengrin", April 7; "Carmen", April 8; "Rosenkavalier", April 9; "Maggio Flute" and "Traviata", April 10; "Tosca" and "Aida", April 11.

FOUNDERS' DAY AT IRVINGDALE
There was a good attendance Tuesday evening at the Irvingdale P. T. A. meeting, when an attendance award went to Mrs. Hunter's room and a fine Founders' Day Washington and Lincoln program was presented. The school stage was decorated with American flags grouped as a background for the lighted birthday cake, which was later awarded to Mrs. Betty Lannen for a cake walk.

The program opened with the singing of "Battle Hymn of the Republic"; song, "Once More We Celebrate"; Doris Devore, Kay Schweitzer, Geraldine Bennett and Emma Hansen; reading, "The Meaning of Founders' Day"; Mrs. Marie Schweitzer; recitation, "Washington"; John Bohren; recitation, "I Cannot Be a Washington"; Sally Lannen; reading of message from president, Mrs. Clyde Hansen; solo, "Mother Mine"; Betty Mason; song, "Happy Birthday"; by all. Mrs. Vance Weld then showed some interesting Girl Scout movies and refreshments were served by the teachers at tables decorated in red, white and blue and lighted with candles.

Answers To Cranium Crackers

- Questions on Page 4
1. The Internal Revenue Bureau of the Treasury Department collects the income tax.
 2. It was necessary to amend the Constitution to provide for an income tax law because the Supreme Court had held such an earlier act unconstitutional on the grounds it violated a section of the Constitution which forbade Congress from assessing taxation of any other direct tax... unless in proportion to the census.
 3. Gangster Al Capone served a prison term for failure to pay his income tax.
 4. The income tax for several years has been the biggest source of federal revenue.
 5. Gov. Herbert H. Lehman proposed reducing the New York State income tax rate to ease the burden on taxpayers.

BOYS IN THE SERVICE

Private First Class George K. Wilcox, Med. Sect., 1319th S. U. Fort Monroe, Va., son of Mrs. S. C. Wilcox, of R. D. 2, Akeley, has been found qualified by the examining board for appointment as an Aviation Cadet and is awaiting order to report to an aviation training center, according to information received today. If he is successful in completing the prescribed course of study he will be commissioned a second lieutenant in the Air Corps, either with flying status or for ground duty.

Word has been received by Miss Ruth Smith, of Kinzua, that her brother, Clarence E. Smith, an airplane mechanic in the Air Corps at Mitchell Field, New York, has been promoted to the rank of corporal.

Your News Test On The Pacific War

1. They're British Empire fighting units, active in the Pacific battles around Singapore and the Dutch Indies. Can you identify them: RAAF, SAAF, RNZAF?
 2. Kunming, China, is at one end of it. What is the other terminal, and what is the name of this supply line much in the news recently?
 3. Explain what is meant by pom poms, dum dums and ack ack.
 4. Part of the plan for the defense of Singapore rested with the 18-inch coastal guns. What part of the gun is measured to give such a classification?
 5. True or false? A long range bomber maintaining a speed of 200 miles an hour could fly from San Francisco to Batavia, Java, in two days.

Menus of the Day

By MRS. ALEXANDER GEORGE
A Lenten Dinner

Serving 4 Or 5
Hot Clam Broth
Baked Salmon Cakes
Escalloped Turnips
Bran Cereal
Sliced Apples
Fried Crumb Cake
Coffee Milk

Baked Salmon Cakes
1 pound can salmon
1 cup mashed potatoes
1/2 cup dried bread crumbs
1 tablespoon chopped parsley
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon paprika
1/2 teaspoon celery salt
1 egg or 2 yolks
1 tablespoon cream
1/2 cup flour
4 tablespoons fat
Flake salmon, add potatoes, crumbs, seasonings, egg, cream. Shape into 1/2 inch thick cakes. Roll in flour, place in fat melted in shallow pan. Bake 10 minutes in moderate oven, turn to brown. A savory tomato or sauce made from liquid in the salmon can be served with these cakes.

Crumb Cake
2 cups flour
1 cup dark brown sugar
1/2 cup fat
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon mace
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon soda
1/2 teaspoon baking powder
3 eggs, beaten
1/2 cup sour milk
or buttermilk
1 teaspoon vanilla
1/2 teaspoon grated orange rind
Mix until crumbly, flour, sugar, fat and spices. Reserve 2/3 cupful and add rest to remaining ingredients. Beat 2 minutes. Pour into shallow pan lined with waxed paper. Sprinkle with reserved crumbs. Bake 35 minutes in moderate oven (350). Cut in squares.

Let these new cake toppers take the place of the usual rich frostings. Sprinkle chopped prunes and salted peanuts over loaf cake batter, cover layer cake batter with coconut and sprinkle candied fruit and raisins in the bottom of individual cake pans before filling them with cup cake batter. Bake as usual and the cakes come out already frosted.

ceded the troops of the Czars, and the start of the ninth month of the battle against Adolf Hitler's invaders.

Informed British said the royal navy, humiliated by the 700-mile dash of the German battleships Gneisenau and Scharnhorst from Dover to German havens through the Strait last Thursday, soon would be joined by two new 35,000-ton battleships.

Meanwhile, RAF bombers smashed anew at targets on the Heligoland Bight—where the Gneisenau and Scharnhorst are reported to have taken refuge—and the London air ministry announced briefings: "Last night aircraft of the bomber command laid mines in enemy waters."

On the North African front, Premier Mussolini's high command said action was limited to skirmishes in which British mechanized patrols were repulsed by Axis forces in the El Mechili sector, 90 miles west of Tobruk.

Russell, Feb. 17—The auxiliary of the Russell Firemen met at the home of Mrs. John Gruber Friday evening with fourteen members and several visitors present. Two new names were enrolled, Mrs. Herman Schlaack and Mrs. Pearson. It was decided to start a first aid class. The hostess Mrs. Howard Jones and Mrs. Clarence Jones served refreshments.

Mrs. Ray Thompson entertained at a dinner at her home Sunday in honor of her brother Earl Bennett and Mrs. Clara Wright's birthday anniversaries. Those from away were Mr. and Mrs. Earl Bennett of Frewsburg, Mr. and Mrs. Severin of Newark, N. J.

Harold S. Hill of Jeannette, Pa., and Mary Maxine Stewart of Rimersburg, Pa., were married Saturday evening at 5 o'clock at the Methodist parsonage by Rev. R. S. Naylor.

Miss Blanche Akley who is in training at the Mount Sinai hospital at Cleveland spent the week end at her home here.

The following neighbors of Fox Hill enjoyed a sauerkraut supper at the home of Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Lawson: Mrs. Matilda Walters, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest VanCise, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Gage, Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Smith and son Raymond, Guy Sumner, Joe Roe, Nathalie Gage, Paul Gage, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gage, Jr.

The mens eight point charge brotherhood will meet at the Methodist church Thursday evening at 7 o'clock for a dinner. The speaker will be Rev. James A. Davidson of Warren.

Mrs. Bessie Hannah's Sunday school class was in charge of the evening church service Sunday. The Lander Junior choir rendered several selections.

Mrs. Martin of Falconer has been spending several days here with her aunt Mrs. Henry Wesner who is ill.

Mrs. Bogart of North Warren was a visitor of Mr. and Mrs. L. A.

Putnam Saturday.

Miss Ruth Eaton and Miss Helen Randall of Indiana State Teachers College spent the weekend with their parents.

The men's bible class enjoyed a luncheon supper at the church Thursday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. George Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Keller, Richard and Abner Eraweine of Cleveland were visitors of Mr. and Mrs. D. N. Warner over the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Thurston and family and Mr. Nelson of Frewsburg were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Marion Briggs.

Mrs. Katie Baldensperger of Warren is spending this week with her sister, Mrs. Lena Jones.

MOTHERS CLUB HOLDS MEETING AT SHEFFIELD

Sheffield, Feb. 19—The February meeting of the Lincoln School Mothers' Club was held yesterday afternoon with Mrs. Emil Stanat president, in charge.

Guest speaker for the occasion was Dr. Robert Taylor, who related how mothers can cooperate with the doctors during the emergency of the war has created.

He called attention to the fact that many doctors have been called from civilian practice to service with the nation's armed forces and that by reason thereof there are, of course, far fewer physicians left to carry the burden of caring for civilians who become ill or are injured. The best cooperation mothers can give the doctors under these circumstances, Dr. Taylor told his listeners, is for them to remember this shortage of physicians when illness or injury occurs in their families and not call in a doctor unless the case absolutely requires such treatment.

The regular program, put on by the students, featured the school bugle corps in a presentation of five numbers: baton twirling by groups and individuals; a flag swinging exhibition, and music by an instrumental trio.

Lunch was served by the regular refreshments committee.

AIR WARDENS TO MEET

Police Chief Sanford Secoy, air raid warden of Warren county's Sector 6, included in which is Sheffield, announces that a meeting of all air raid wardens of Sheffield, Barnes and Mayburg, will be held at 7:30 this evening at the Borden Funeral Parlors. The wardens will be addressed by Earl Walter, of Youngville, Warren county training chief for air raid wardens, who will explain in detail all phases of the warden service.

TO GIVE PRIZES

At the regular meeting of the Sheffield Woman's Club, held Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Orabelle Shick, it was announced that the club will pay prizes of $3 and $1.50, respectively, to the two girls of the local high school who write the first best and second best essays in a contest, to begin next month, which is being sponsored throughout the state by the Federated Women's Clubs of Pennsylvania. It was announced also that the local Rotary Club will pay similar prizes for the best two essays entered in the contest by the young men of the local school.

More detail concerning the contest will be published later.

Tuesday's meeting was conducted by Mrs. Dona Horer, president of the club. There were 21 ladies present at the event, and the program feature was a paper "Pennsylvania's Public School System" prepared and given by Mrs. L. O. Eisenhauer.

Milk Dealers

Gain Increase

Governor James, asserting that "increases were found necessary to meet the increased cost of production and distribution of milk; also that competition for the milk from large metropolitan centers, paying a higher price, was tending to attract the milk from the secondary markets and, therefore, to retain in those market an adequate supply of milk, higher prices must be paid to producers."

Pension Repeal Measure

Goes to the Senate

The senate's repeal measure would exclude from participation in the civil service retirement system members of congress, the president, the vice-president, cabinet officers and federal employees now participating in any other federal pension fund.

The bill also would direct that any payments already made by those excluded from the system be repaid within thirty days.

Fighters May

Get Pay Boost

raise the base pay of enlisted men to $42, but would provide further increases for length of service, up to $207 a month for a master sergeant with 30 years' service.

WASHINGTON DINNER AT FIRST METHODIST

The Men's Bible Class of the First Methodist church is sponsoring a Washington Dinner in conjunction with the regular monthly business meeting of the class. The dinner will be held in Pioneers Hall, Friday evening at 8:30 o'clock.

Following the dinner a short business session will be held, after which the Rev. Dr. J. A. Davidson, pastor of the First Baptist church will give a talk on his recent trip to Mexico. Dr. Davidson will also show pictures taken while there.

HONORS RECENT BRIDE AT PARTY

Miss Martha Maitland, Jefferson street, honored Mrs. Marcus Naylor with a shower of personal gifts in entertaining Theta Chi Rho Sorority members at her home on Monday evening. Prizes for three tables of bridge were awarded to Mrs. Clare Homan, first; Mrs. Harold Putnam, second; and Mrs. Mary Parker, low. Refreshments and the presentation of gifts concluded the evening.

PUBLIC INVITED TO EVENING OF PLAYS

The High School Dramatic Club extends to all interested in amateur dramatics an invitation to enjoy its annual "Evening of Plays" program to be presented in the school auditorium at 8:15 o'clock this evening. In addition to three very fine plays to be given, there will be special instrumental and vocal music.

TO SHOW MOVIES AT YPS MEETING

The Young People's Society of the Bethlehem Congregational Church will meet at the church at eight o'clock Tuesday evening for the first showing of movies taken during the church's golden jubilee last year. All members and friends are welcome.

DIAMOND MEETING

There were 35 members present at the Diamond Grange meeting at Tona Tuesday evening, when David Denton gave an interesting talk on group hospitalization. Worthy Deputy and Mrs. Wilcox were present, the former speaking briefly. To conclude, refreshments were served by the committee. An invitation was extended for all Diamond members to attend Warren Grange session this evening.

HOW IT STARTED

Golf knickers are called "plus fours" because a tailor added four inches to the width when he was told that the standard length was not roomy enough.

How To Hold

FALSE TEETH

More Firmly In Place

Do your false teeth annoy and embarrass by slipping, dropping or wobbling when you eat, laugh or talk? Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH on your plates. This alkaline (non-acid) powder holds false teeth more firmly and more comfortably. No gummy, gooey, pasty taste or feeling. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH today at any drug store. (adv.)

EASTERN STAR GROUP GIVES BIRTHDAY PARTY

Eastern Star officers held a dinner Tuesday evening at 6:30 at the Carver House in the form of a surprise birthday party for their worthy matron, Mrs. Peggy Hedges.

Twenty-two guests were seated at a table decorated with little mammy doll favors, with a large mammy doll and a birthday cake decorated in the colors of the Eastern Star at the table of the guest of honor.

Following the dinner, court whist was enjoyed with prizes going to the following: High, Mrs. Lena Schaeffer; second, Mrs. Alta Burch; consolation, Mrs. Dorothy Nelson.

MRS. MASCI GIVEN BIRTHDAY SURPRISE

Mrs. Bernard Masci was given a happy surprise party Tuesday evening when her brother and sisters, with their families, gathered at her home on United avenue to help her celebrate her birthday anniversary. The time was devoted to bridge playing, with prizes going to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Musante. The guests presented her with a lovely gift and served refreshments they had brought with them.

In attendance with their families were Andrew, Peter, Vincent, Thomas and Joseph Musante, Mrs. Charles Hollingshead and Miss Mary Musante.

HOSPITAL AUXILIARY

All members and friends of the Warren General Hospital Women's Auxiliary are urged to be present for the business-work session to be held at 1:30 o'clock Friday afternoon in the auxiliary's room in the maternity building. There is much work to be done and cooperation of all interested in the institution is asked.

BEREAN CLASS

Berean Class of First Baptist church will be entertained Friday evening at the home of Miss Florence Page, 415 Water street, with Mrs. Pearl Clymer and Mrs. Dora McManus as hostesses. Members are reminded to bring their birthday money.

D. A. R. BIRTHDAY

At six o'clock this evening in the Y. W. C. A. activities building, members of General Joseph Warren Chapter, D. A. R., will hold a brief business session, to be followed at 6:30 by the birthday dinner and an entertaining program.

MARTHA SOCIETY

The Martha Society of St. Paul's Lutheran church will meet tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the church parlors, entertained by Mrs. Alfred Holmberg and Mrs. Ernest Ericson.

Service Men Talk to Home Folks Via "Living Letters"

By NEA Service

New York, Feb. 19.—"Living letters" from servicemen have made their debut in World War II. Over in the Brooklyn Navy Yard, M. C. A. the other night, sailors, soldiers, marines and coast guardsmen lined up in front of a microphone with their prepared letters in hand, then read them individually into a recording machine.

A regular phonograph record in the machine faithfully recorded each message to a wife, mother or sweetheart. With the message went the Yankee twang, southern drawl or other regional accent.

His happy grin testifies to the success of the "living letter" idea. A. Schmidt records a "note" to the home folks at the Brooklyn Navy Yard Y. M. C. A.

individual in the group that represented all sections of the country.

But, in effect, each "letter" being mailed to the folks said the same thing.

"It won't do a bit of good to worry. Mother. Everything is okay. I can't wait until I can tackle one of your Sunday dinners again. The girls here are cute and they dress well but give me the ones back in our town. Thanks for your small last letter and tell that big lumox, Jim, to send one, too. Give Sis a kiss for me and tell her I'll send you all a picture as soon as I have one taken."

Today some of the records have reached their destinations and others to more distant points are en route in the mails. Still others are being held with the instructions that they are to be sent only in the event of death.

IDEA TO BE WIDELY USED

The idea for the record letters was thought up by Henrietta Harrison, national radio director of the Y. M. C. A.

She decided the folks back home would like to be able to hear the voices of the boys.

The idea clicked immediately.

Soon the program will reach a nationwide scale. G. Robert Vincent, sound engineer, is starting a Second Class Gunner Walter Eugene Lucas, from Dothan, Ala., was one of the first to send, as pictured above, a Y. M. C. A. "speake" letter to his family down south.

HOLLYWOOD SIGHTS AND SOUNDS

B. ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—Joe Cotten was hailing. He was confined to his home and feeling wonderful about it. A constantly ringing telephone conveyed the thanks, appreciation, and sympathy of fellow-workers Joe Cotten was a hero.

Jack Moss, Orson Welles' co-producer in Mercury films and co-director in "Journey into Fear," telephoned: "Two days isn't enough. Joe. You'd better stay home until Monday."

This was sensational.

ORDINARILY movie crew members begudge days off. They love overtime. One of them phoned: "I can't tell you how much I appreciate this, Joe."

Norman Foster, the director, called: "Monday, huh? Swell!"

Mr. Cotten thought it was swell, too. So did blonde Mrs. Cotten. She was having lunch with Joe at the desk in his green-and-plaid bedroom when I was shown in "It's wonderful," proclaimed Joe, "now it's five whole days at home! This is the first time in a week I've had breakfast, lunch, or dinner with my wife!"

The secret of it all? Orson Welles, the inexhaustible, had been safely launched on his South American film mission. Everybody, on "The Magnificent Ambersons" or "Journey" had been working overtime for a week. Even Welles was exhausted at the end of one 24-hour stretch. Joe Cotten then looked in a mirror, decided he was somebody else, and went home. Production on "Journey" halted, amid huzzahs. "Having helped write it" explained Joe. "I'm in most of it—and they can't go on without me."

BUT now, after some sleep, Joe looked like himself again—tall, thin, vigorous. He looked almost as healthy, except for occasional jumpiness, as if he'd never worked with the inexhaustible Mr. W.

This would indicate that, given a strong Petersburg, Va., constitution and a background including the selling of practically everything from paints to potato salad, an actor's association with Orson need not be fatal.

While working up to this enjoyably miniature breakdown, Joe had spent two years with K. Hepburn in "The Philadelphia Story," made four movies, done and written radio shows and, surprisingly enough, retained his balance and ebullient humor. The Cottens live in a rented house (Charles Boyer, landlord) and I think Joe still blinks when he sees his tennis court and swimming pool.

He had a test script for the role of Father Chisholm in "Keys of the Kingdom" and he was telling me why he didn't want the role. It was another old man, for one thing. He worked in age make-up in certain sequences of "Citizen Kane" and "Lydia" and now most people thought he really was dodging. And Father Chisholm was Scotch—imagine a Virginia accent superimposed on a Scotch character! He'd like to work for Selznick, but—tour of U. S. O. clubs and military centers sponsored by the Y. M. C. A. and will set up his recording apparatus for the benefit of the troops and their families.

And then suddenly, with a loud laugh: "I haven't a snowball's chance at the part—that's why Cotten's playing hard to get!"

Normally, Vincent is the only person to hear each letter. Each serviceman steps from the head of the line and into a private room like a broadcasting booth.

But it's not always smooth sailing. One tow-headed youngster from a battlewagon, who looked so young he must have lied about his age so he could serve, got stymied in the booth.

"I'm scared of that mike," he said, frankly. "I start to sweat when I get near it."

Miss Harrison said sailors are more sentimental than soldiers. One glib sang the "Rock of Ages." Another crooned, "You Are My Sunshine," on a record he was sending to his mother.

Records to sweethearts are especially popular. Usually the fellows talked of dances, picnics, the gang at home, swimming parties, school days and reunions. Some of the letters are serious; others are light and full of amusing incidents. Some fellows have been back to make second recordings.

machinery, etc.—the cost of which cannot be deducted as a business expense.

A lawyer, doctor or other professional man may not charge off as a current expense the cost of a library used wholly in his profession, this being a capital expenditure and the library a capital asset; but he may deduct an allowance for depreciation based upon the useful life of the library. If part of a professional man's residence is used by him exclusively for office purpose, a proportionate amount of the depreciation sustained may be deducted, based generally on the ratio of the number of rooms used for such purposes to the total number of rooms in the building. The same principle applies if a taxpayer rents to others a portion of his residence. Under such conditions however, the taxpayer must include in his gross income the rentals received.

Fighter planes are the best defense against enemy bombers, the British have found. During the heavy air attacks on England in 1940, British fighters shot down nearly ten times as many German bombers as did anti-aircraft guns.

DEDUCTION FOR DEPRECIATION

The Internal Revenue Code provides for "a reasonable allowance for the exhaustion, wear and tear of property used in the trade or business including a reasonable allowance for obsolescence." For convenience, such allowance usually is referred to as depreciation.

In claiming a deduction for depreciation several fundamental principles must be observed: The deduction must be confined to property actually used in a trade, business, or profession, and to improvements on real property, other than property used by the taxpayer as his personal residence. In general, it applies to the taxpayer's capital assets—buildings

New Alert
Chapter 20

AS Goodwin's arms folded around her, Sharon gathered up her travelling courage and, pushing away from him, whispered, "Listen!"

Goodwin stopped, alert. For several moments they stood staring at each other, unseeing, waiting the repetition of Sharon's imaginary sound.

Then, amazingly, there was a sound. The growing putt-putt of the motor boat.

"Our strange visitor is coming back," Sharon said, so grateful for the interruption she was hard put not to show it.

Goodwin nodded, released her abruptly. "We must get back to the car."

Sharon never obeyed a command with such alacrity. Leading the way, she sped up the trail sure-footed in her desire to be out of that cave, back into civilization.

Not that she was exactly out of the woods yet, she thought as she climbed into the car. Still, Harvey Goodwin's mood had changed. He was no longer her rather unmanageable admirer, he was the busy executive, her employer. Looking at him now from the corner of her eye, her fears of a few moments before seemed groundless. Nothing about his grave-eyed attention to the road ahead, the unflinching courtesy of his occasional remarks, the evidence of her alarm, strange that he could change so quickly. His mercurial disposition made him a sort of Dr. Jekyll-and-Mr. Hyde. She was, at least temporarily, no longer in danger of too much of Mr. Goodwin's attention.

Sure of that now, she rested her head against the back of the seat, let the motion of the car cradle her, soothing her achingly tired body.

Mr. Goodwin drove her directly to her apartment.

"Don't come down to the office today," he said as he helped her out of the car. "But get the rest you must need badly."

"Thank you, I am tired," she said.

"You must be," and his smile warmed her. "Thank you for all that you have done and next time—" he raised one eyebrow at her. "don't let your imagination play."

Too tired to defend herself any further, Sharon only smiled, said, "I'll try not to."

"And don't take our young friend to Hall Moon Bay again."

There was no teasing in that. Threat, rather. And a definite warning. She had better right. There was a secret there and she had very nearly uncovered it!

"I won't," she promised quietly.

Later as she drew the blinds in her bedroom to shut out the morning sunlight, undressed, and crawled wearily into bed, she wondered a little about Mr. Goodwin's trusting her to obtain vital information and then abruptly drawing a curtain over the rest. There had been a full shipment of the precious airplane valves before she had left him there. She was certain of it. What's more, she believed he knew it too.

As on a treadmill, her mind circled back over the details of the last twenty-four hours again and again until finally her tired young body relaxed and she fell into deep, dreamless sleep.

She awakened about four, refreshed and ravenously hungry. In her bathrobe and slippers, she raided the icebox, made herself tea and toast. She had just poured her second cup when the door-phone buzzed.

Edda

DENNIS, probably, Sharon thought as she released the door latch. Home early and he'd forgotten his key as usual.

But it was not Dennis who appeared in the doorway a few moments later. It was—Countess Edda Cayetuna!

Sharon, with amazement, Sharon could only stare at her. The Countess—here!

"How do you do?" The Countess bowed slightly. "May I come in?"

"But of course, I'm so—so surprised—so happy to see you!" Sharon stammered.

"I hope I'm not disturbing you too much."

Sharon flushed, aware of her own tousled head, her robe, her bare slippered feet. "Not at all," and tried to tuck the little mules out of sight under the full skirt of her robe. "Won't you sit down?"

"Thank you," The Countess sat on the edge of the little, striped-backed desk chair, her trimly gloved hands folded over her bag, her smile disarming—almost.

"It's a lovely afternoon, isn't it?"

The Countess smiled, turned a sharp edge. "Yes, your drive up from the country this morning must have been—delightful."

Sharon was on guard instantly. "A business trip can hardly be called delightful!"

"No? That's hardly understandable with so charming a companion as you had," she murmured evenly. "Still, I wouldn't be in a position to judge—not being a business woman as you are."

Sharon, aware from the first that this was not to be a social call, waited now for the Countess to make the first move.

"Since you are so clever a business woman, however," the Countess went on, "I am sure you will appreciate the proposition that I have to make to you."

Sharon folded her hands tight in her lap. "Yes?"

"It is really very simple," the beautiful Edda smiled, a gesture intended evidently to dazzle Sharon into submission. "I feel that the responsibility of your position is much too great for a girl of your years. I know I am presumptuous in assuming any right even to be concerned about your welfare. But, knowing you for the sweet charming girl that you are, I could not help but offer my advice and, if you will accept it, my help."

"I am afraid I don't understand," Sharon parried for time, trying desperately to see the real reason behind the Countess' visit.

"I mean just this, my dear. You are in a dangerous position. Very dangerous. Much more so than I feel, Harvey has made you understand. More, perhaps, than Harvey himself realizes."

Sharon shook her head. "Still, I cannot see why you—"

"Exactly," shrugging, the Countess laughed softly. "But that is the way I am, always. Worrying about other people's dangers. Then, with sweet earnestness, 'Believe me, my dear, I don't often bother to try to rescue people from themselves. But in your case—' again that lovely, appealing little shrug. 'I cannot help myself. You are so young, so innocent, so very lovely.'"

Perfectly sure that in none of this lay the Countess' real motive, Sharon led her on. "And—what did you want me to do?"

"Resign your position. Leave this part of the country at least until this grave danger is passed."

"But—what is the grave danger?" Sharon demanded.

"That I am not at liberty to reveal. But believe me you are indeed, in very grave danger—mortal danger."

"And where would you have me go?" still fencing, still completely in the dark as to real reasons.

"I have influential friends—in New York, in Baltimore. I could find you many advantageous offers. Until you found a position. I would gladly provide means for—"

The Countess drew a checkbook and pen from her bag, betrayed her.

Dismissed

"BRIBERY!" Sharon spoke the word as it left in huge black letters the first screen of her mind. And with the word, her quick Irish temper unfurled a proud banner. "And just how much is it worth to you to have me out of the picture so that Harvey Goodwin will be in no danger of forgetting your ladyship?" And her tongue curled contemptuously around the question.

The Countess stiffened haughtily. "How dare you!"

Sharon laughed, a short, triumphant cascade of sound. At last she had the answer to at least one of the problems that had baffled her. Jealousy—that age-old reason behind the machinations of a woman in love.

"Keep your money, madam," she said, her head high. "Because I intend to keep my position."

Countess Edda dropped her checkbook, her pen into the smart capaciousness of her black bag. Then, as she rose, her dark eyes betrayed such passionate hatred that Sharon realized this woman would stop at nothing. No weapon would be too mean, no plan too involved to put Sharon out of her way.

Sharon was not surprised then when the Countess, her voice no longer the dulcet tones of a gentlewoman, said coldly:

"If I were to tell you that I have it within my power to force your resignation—certain information that I can give or withhold in your name to the enemy—"

"Then I should call that blackmail," Sharon said with incisiveness to match the Countess'. "In this country, that is a federal offense!"

"Tough," the Countess shrugged eloquently. "You will not listen to me this time, but perhaps another day—"

"Another day I will be just as determined to do my duty as I am this minute."

"Perhaps, we shall see."

Turning, the Countess moved to the door. Then once more the velvet glove slipped over her curving claw. "If you should change your mind, Miss Doyle, my offer still stands—until it is too late."

She closed the door, before Sharon had time to reply. Her anger, now that the enemy had retired from the scene of battle, dissolved into apprehension. What could the Countess have meant? "Information I can give or withhold—in your name—to the enemy?"

And how clumsily she had handled this first open skirmish! Sharon's knees threatened mutiny and she sank down onto the same little desk chair the Countess had occupied only a moment before. If she had held her temper, played for time, she might have discovered what information the Countess meant. More than that, she might have kept her battle "undeclared." As it was, she'd seen through her adversary's first thrust, balked the blow, humiliated her and—won her everlasting hatred! From now on, it was open war!

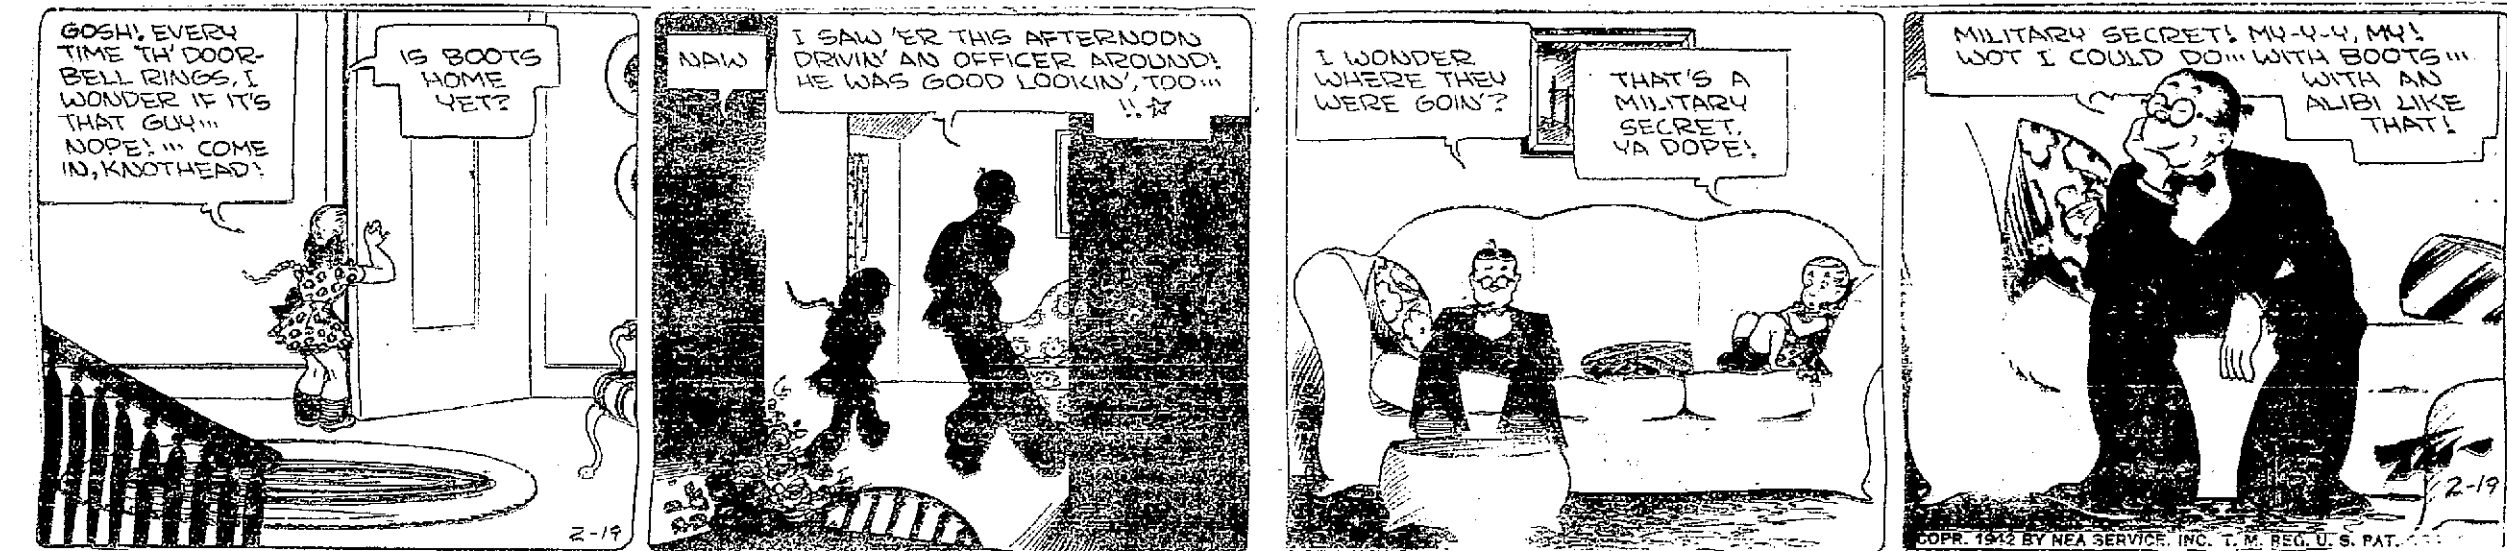

Her fists clenched, Sharon pounced softly on the desk as she drove home this new-found truth. Once more her quick temper had betrayed her.

DAY OF PRAYER BEING PLANNED AT YOUNGSVILLE

Youngsville, Feb. 18—Friday of this week has been designated as a day of prayer and at 2:30 p. m. the Methodist Women's Society of Christian Service is uniting with the ladies of the United Brethren church in a service in the United Brethren church. The special program planned for this day and used by many churches is to be used in this service.

The Free Methodist church ladies are meeting in the afternoon at the home of their pastor for a missionary meeting and prayer service and also there is an evening church service Friday.

Friday of this week is the regular date for the meeting of the local Women's Christian Temperance Union, but this meeting is being postponed so that the members may attend the prayer services for the same hour.

BIRTHDAY CELEBRATION

Miss Thelma Crandall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Crandall, celebrated her birthday Friday last. She was invited on this date for dinner with a friend and then went to the local movie theatre where some thirty-eight friends were waiting to surprise her, as they had been invited by Mr. and Mrs. Crandall to be their guests at the movie. Later the entire party enjoyed refreshments at the Brady Restaurant, where tables had been arranged with special favors for each guest.

ROTARIAN DINNER

Youngsville Rotary Club had as Tuesday evening speaker at the dinner meeting, Earl Walters, who has been appointed a district fire warden and with Mr. Crandall received instruction at Harrisburg in this line of defense work. The topic for the evening was "Defense." Mr. Walters is also to give a talk on this topic at the Thursday evening Lutheran Brotherhood meeting.

WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. John Knapp celebrated their first wedding anniversary Sunday. The previous Friday evening they were surprised by a visit from their parents and other relatives in their home. Refreshments were served and they received gifts.

BRIEFS

Miss Mina Wingard, who is taking a nurse's training course in Philadelphia, is spending the week with her parents in Youngsville.

Mrs. Ethel Ball was hostess on Sunday evening to the members of the Women's Benefit Association at a business and social meeting held at her home.

Harold Higgins was a recent Cleveland visitor.

SHOWER PARTY

Miss Connie Olson, who is to be an April bride, was honored last week by her mother, Mrs. Iner Olson, of Youngsville, and sister, Mrs. Lois Darling, of Jamestown, at a shower at the family home in Youngsville. Games and contests were enjoyed in the evening. Miss Olson received lovely gifts.

At the delightful luncheon served, Miss Olga Olson of Youngsville, poured at the buffet table. Guests were present from Erie, Warren and Jamestown as well as Youngsville.

GOLDEN CHAIN

Mrs. Dwight Jack assisted the hostess Monday at the meeting of the Golden Chain organization held at the home of Mrs. John Knapp.

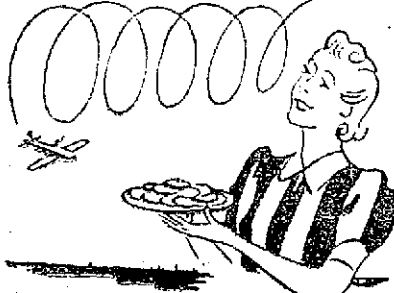

Miss Elizabeth Husted conducted the study period of the evening. At the business session contributions were made to the funds for the purchase of the Christian flag and national flag and also for other church activities. A social time preceded the serving of pleasing refreshments.

ASKS MILITARY TRAINING FOR HIGH STUDENTS

If a bill which was introduced in the state legislature today is adopted, all physically able male students in Pennsylvania's public high schools will be required to undergo compulsory military training.

State Senator John M. Walker, Pittsburgh Republican, in making the proposal, suggested that military training periods of from two to five hours a week be instigated in the schools, according to an Associated Press dispatch from Harrisburg. Provision is made for conscientious objectors.

There was some speculation whether it could be considered during this special session of the legislature since the specific subject matter was not included in the governor's convening call, although emergency defense recommendations were made in the summons.

Senator Walker's bill, according to the dispatch, would prepare students "to assist in maintaining order in times of emergency and defending the commonwealth and the nation."

The state adjutant general would be in charge of the program.

Jimmy Stewart and Frank Capra were a darn sight more useful to the American people in the story they told in Hollywood and did their stuff there, than they would be jumping into a uniform and playing soldier or sailor.

The names of Stewart and Capra were not mentioned in Brig. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey's orders declaring the movies an essential industry, but their cases personalize the whole thing. Jimmy Stewart is now a lieutenant doing nothing, apparently, that any other lieutenant couldn't do. Capra wanted to be a major to have a hand in production of Army training films. These Army training films are important, but the idea of Government Film Co-ordinator Lowell Mellett is that people like Stewart and Capra have a still more important job to do in keeping up the morale of the American people by providing good entertainment.

Snazziest movie in Washington is in the treasury building, occupying a made-over office suite right under Secretary Henry Morgenthau, Jr.'s headquarters. The seats only about 75. The walls are tastefully hung with art; coarse weave drapes of a pasty grayish brown and the soft green upholstered theatre seats have backs that give a little and beat an overstuffed club chair for comfort.

Installed originally for the inspection of foreign films seized by the custom men, this theatre is now used for that and for previewing or special showing of other government films. Sometimes these documentary films are shown for inspector-audiences of only one or two. Meals are ordered up from the cafeteria and the inspectors work while they eat. At night films are sometimes shown for the off-duty entertainment of soldiers assigned to the treasury guard.

The winter home of the chimney swift, one of our most common summer birds, is absolutely unknown.

PENN'A CITIZENS ARE PRISONERS OF JAP FORCES

Several from the northwestern portion of the state were included among 26 Pennsylvanians who are assumed to have been taken prisoners by the Japanese in China and Pacific island outposts, according to an announcement made in Philadelphia today by the Navy Department.

All were among the 1200 civilians and 1010 officers and men of the Navy and Marine Corps serving on Wake and Guam islands or in the Chinese cities of Beijing and Tientsin when the Japanese attacked Pearl Harbor last December 7.

The civilians were employed on various public works projects in those areas.

Interruptions of communications after the Japanese attack, the Navy said, makes it impossible to determine the exact status of all individuals in those areas. "But from information that had been available up to the time or near the time of the capture of some of the groups," the Navy added, "it is presumed that those not otherwise accounted for are prisoners of the Japanese."

Among northwestern Pennsylvanians listed by the Navy are the following:

Navy personnel on Wake Island, presumed to be prisoners—William Richard Lechler, seaman, first class, 2316 Holland street, Erie.
